

September 16th, 2005

To whom it may Concern

I am honored to write a letter of reference for Mr. Gary Giles, a friend and fishing associate. I have known Gary for over a year now after moving here from California. During this time I have become very close friends and fish with him two to three times a week. I feel you really find out what a person is all about when you spending time fishing with them. I have found Gary to be of the highest character. Always polite, respectful of others, very knowledgeable of the fish and game laws, and one who offers free advice to anyone who is interested. He does volunteer work for the Florida Institute of Technology dealing with Tarpon research and offers several classes(free) to interested fisherman on this subject as well as fishing in general. His sense of humor and general enjoyment of being around people makes Gary someone who people respect not only for his knowledge but for his overall generosity. Gary is a devoted father of two boys and supports them in all areas of their lives. I know Gary is applying for his Florida Fishing Guide License and I can think of now other person who will represent this organization in a positive manner than Gary. He will make an outstanding guide and representative of the fishing industry.

I bring over 34 years of public service to the table and I believe Gary is one of the most generous and considerate individuals I have met during my career as an educator in California. I recommend him without reservation. If you have further questions please feel free to contact me at (321)254-2603.

Respectfully,

Jerry Davis